(Late)

Hi there Sweet heart
This is rather late but you know I late than never." I want you to know I going to school with you last year. You are and I really do love you to death. I don't know without you. You're one of the best friends I've ever really had. I just wanted you to know that I'm still praying for that letter to come that you won't from the U.S.N. Also to pray for a certain girl who comes up to my house every day. I'm about as happy as a boy coming up to get to know you. Well it's really getting

THIS BOOK WE DEDICATE TO
MRS. CARL MOTSINGER

If it is true, as the poet has said, that "I am a part of all that I have met," then our class is richer for having known Mrs. Rose Lightfoot Motsinger. She has exemplified the teachings of the Master in that she has "gone about doing good." To every civic, church, and school enterprise she has given her time and devotion. A true friend of youth, she has enriched the life of every young person who has known her by living a beautiful life of Christian Courage, Courtesy, Faith, Hope and Charity. She has truly followed the Advice:

*"So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."*

DEAR SENIORS:

It gives me a feeling of humble gratitude to think that you feel that my life has been of sufficient worth to dedicate your annual to me. You have bestowed a great honor upon me and I feel very undeserving, but I am sincerely grateful for this expression of your faith in me.

As the mother of one member of your class, I am sure that I speak the true sentiment of all the other mothers of the class when I express the hope that you will make the right choices in life, and that you will dedicate your lives to service in your church, your home, your school, and your community.

With love and deep appreciation,

Very sincerely yours,

Rose Motsinger

Class Poem

Echo down these halls so dear
Footsteps of our senior year.
We think of all the fun we've had,
And memories of it make us sad.

It seems but just a little while
Since, with a daring smile,
We took our seats as freshmen green
And said, "Just watch our steam!"

Some have fallen by the way
As difficulties grew each day.
Only fifty have remained,
These will graduate unless detained.

Whether our days be many or few
Or our lives be happy or blue,
We will give a contented sigh
When recalling days at Taylorsville High.

James Meadlock

Class Motto

"Four things a man must learn to do
If he would keep his record true:
To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellow man sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven securely."

History

We can parallel our high school career with that of a ship. In 1945 the SS Taylorsville High departed for a four year journey to the port of Graduation, with one hundred and thirteen members aboard. Mr. Feimster, Mr. Gomedela, Mrs. Moselle Watts were our sponsors. The officers directly in charge were Coy Bebbber, James Meadlock, Jo Ann Richey, and Ann Dalton. That year we suffered initiations which the upper classmen thought were fitting and proper. With happy memories we left the Freshman dock.

The second year we lost, at our first stop, twenty-three of our original number, but the rest of us had become adjusted and were beginning to enjoy our visit on Sophomore Island. Our sponsors this year were Mr. Bolick, Mr. Greer, and Mrs. Sherrill. Our officers were Coy Bebbber, Linda Sue Pennell, Virginia Herman, and Maxine Mays. We began raising money for the Junior-Senior.

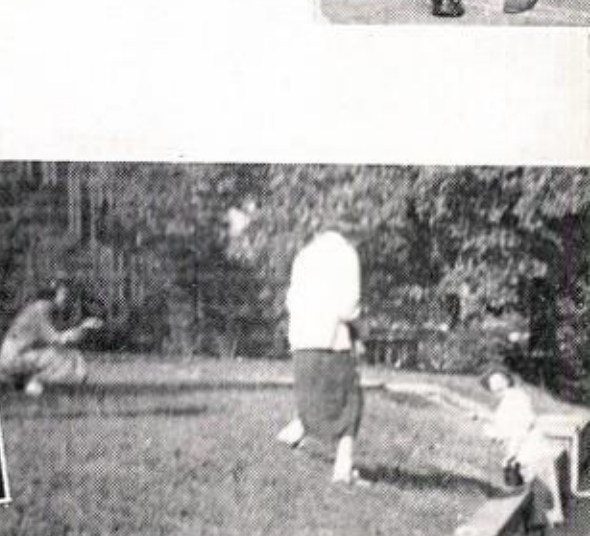

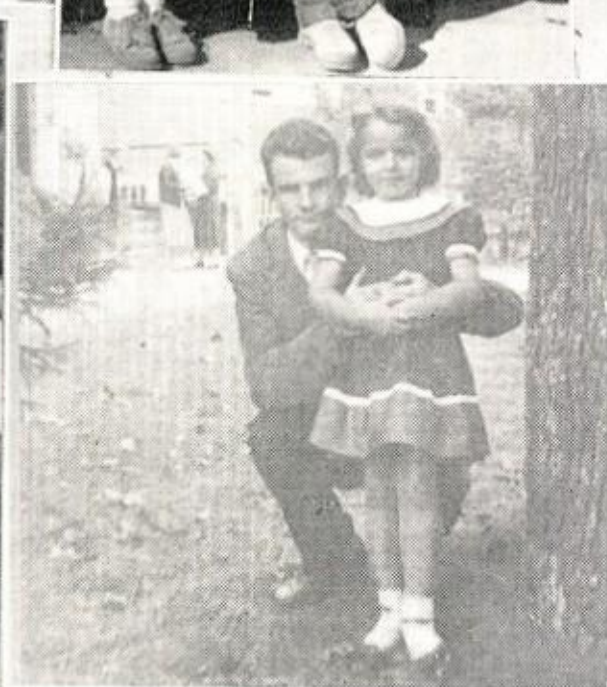

On our second stop twenty-seven members strayed ashore. We were led by Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Misenheimer. Our officers were Coy Bebbber, James Meadlock, Juel Johnson, and Sandra Motsinger. We were so thrilled when we got our class rings. Again we raised money for the Junior-Senior. We decorated our decks for the Old Dutch Garden. It seemed we had stopped in Holland for a short visit. This year our baseball team won the Highland Conference Title.

On the last days of our voyage, in the sea of learning, only fifty of the original one hundred and thirteen took their places as Seniors. James Meadlock, Coy Bebbber, Juel Johnson, and Sandra Motsinger were elected Senior Class Officers. Mrs. Ingram and Mrs. Osborne are our sponsors. We had a successful football team of which we were very proud. We have many things to look forward to—the Junior-Senior—Senior Play—Basketball in the new gym—Baseball season—Class Day and Graduation.

We are expecting to land the latter part of May. We want to thank our teachers, our principal, and our parents for steering our ship to the port of Graduation.

Senior Class Prophecy

Hello, folks! My name is Nebula. Haven't you been watching my floating around in the sky? Do you know it took me twenty years to get to be the cloud I am today? Of course, I'm getting a little old, but I have enjoyed my existence because I can observe everything that is going on in the world.

The happiest months of my life are May and June because those are the months of commencement and graduation. It is fun to watch young hopefuls from a point of vantage observing their happy faces and gay laughter. I also see them in pensive moods pondering long deep thoughts about their future. Almost all of them are looking forward to prosperity in youthful careers, and occasionally I catch a glint of a diamond glittering in the sun, foretelling a happy future with marriage as a career. All in all it is a hopeful group and I know I will be privileged to see the fulfillment of their dreams.

How I grew can best be explained through describing the great dramatic hit, "Life," whose characters are the Taylorsville High School graduating class of '52. This class produced me from drops of sweat off their brows.

The drops of sweat were caused by twelve years of hard labor by which each member grew from first grade to graduation, receiving the training that caused their minds to grow from blankness to maturity. Algebra, Latin, physics, and athletics all contributed to the sweat which made me grow into a fleecy cloud. How hard each senior applied himself in his daily tasks gave me a clue as how to predict his success in the future. Fifty-one people working hard for twelve long years eventually produced enough sweat to give me power to float where I wished to go. So I began traveling and seeing things!

Oh, me! I'm way over the ocean. I'll float toward the good ole' U. S. A. In the distance I can see the Empire State Building. Wait! Something new has been added. It's a statue of Marion Clontz, President of the United States. It stands out in the sun majestic and tall. There is a happy expression on his face reminiscent of the happy boyish smile we used to see in the dear old halls of Taylorsville High when he and Jo Ann R. used to walk down the halls hand in hand. Life has been kind to Marion and hasn't robbed him of his debonair manner.

What's happening on Broadway? Traffic is jammed for three miles. I might have known. Daisy Fox and Linda Sue Pennell, two women cab drivers, are the cause of the jam. There are Johnsie Deal, policewoman, and Robert Cavin, policeman, arguing about which is the best way to solve the problem. They are always looking for trouble.

Looking down Broadway, I see that Rachel Icenhour is starring in the new production, "Half Angel." I tried to get a ticket to see it, but it was booked months in advance. I see Maxine Mays, Juel Johnson, and Margie Bumgarner wearing creations by Virginia Herman, one of New York's top designers of Fifth Avenue. The names of these three girls appear annually in the list of America's ten best dressed women.

Allene Warren is editor of the Warren Publishing House, which has just published Frances Duncan's latest book The Case of the Missing Ring. She is the world's most influential and enthusiastic author. She became tired of being a secretary and found that her true life work was writing detective fiction.

As I drift southward, I know I must be nearing Washington since I can see the Washington Monument. I learned that the Lincoln Memorial has a companion, the Doris St. Clair Liberty Memorial, honoring Doris' great work in securing freedom. He had come through World War III as a hero and all of his later life had been dedicated to the cause of freedom.

Due to the manpower shortage, the class of '52 has lived up to its reputation in the commercial field. Right over Capitol Hill I see Sue Ella Stafford and Lou Eva Jolly, secretaries of Senator Charles Rogers and Representative Abe Russell from North Carolina. Marie Mays likes secretarial work and she worships that boss. Well, who wouldn't? He is a millionaire and has offered to share his wealth with her.

Oh! There's the White House; it is being reconstructed according to the plans drawn by architects Coy Bebbler and Calvin Little. Their interest in architecture began in watching the high school gym go up during their junior year. I always knew a great benefit would come from that building.

As I float down South, thoroughly enjoying this production of "Life," I hear beautiful music by the former Jo Ann Richey. I learned she teaches music in her spare time; however this is limited because she spends most of it caring for the children and cooking for her husband.

Here's the good ole' U. N. C. The football team is brilliantly coached by James Meadlock. I learned that Paul Dean Watts had just signed to play basketball with the New York Globe Trotters.

I was surprised to see Jana Elder, Marie Oliver, and Exie Robinette dressed in nurses' uniforms. These girls are now registered nurses. The Cadet Nurses Corps retained its best nurses for the Army of Occupation. Evelyn Wike and Betty Sue Coonse happened to be two of these lucky ones.

I just have to float over Taylorsville and Taylorsville High to see what's going on! Why, there's Sandra Motsinger with a room full of little school children and they love her so much. I also see Lona Louise Barnes, a commercial teacher.

Gliding over Main Street, I see the Barnes' Funeral Home, formerly the Adams', now owned and managed by Roy Neil Barnes. I see the former Pat Murphy caring for her family of four.

I am happy to know that Jo Ann Tevepaugh and Betty Wike have made successful telephone operators. Louise Barnes is a stenographer for the mayor of Taylorsville. I don't know whether her office experience at T. H. S. or her politics was responsible for this excellent position.

Whoops! I almost bumped into Leon Bowman, champion flag pole sitter of the world. Bonnie Sipe prepares his meals and sends them up in a basket along with a bottle of rubbing alcohol.

"Time for intermission!" the sun announces as the curtain rings down and the lights come on for Act 1. Guess I'll relax for a puff of dust.

At the rising of the curtain, I find myself floating along the Oregon Coast up into Wash-ton. I seem to be the only cloud. It's so peaceful here! I grab my fleecy parts about me as I see Rowe Teague counting the number of salmon in the Columbia River while his secretary, Hurshel Teague, keeps the records straight. Don Reid is known in the lumber business for his ability to top the tallest trees without breaking any limbs.

Why am I crying? What a play! No, the tears are from "Old Faithful," which caught me off guard. Betty Lou Pennell is a guide here in Yellowstone National Park. Where is my buddy John Bentley going with all that meat? Is he that hungry? I see now that he is keeper of the bears.

While resting between acts, I heard a familiar phrase which brought tears to my eyes, "We're gonna fight and we'll win for the Purple and Gold." I hurriedly blow my nose, thus disturbing several other clouds around me. "Hold yourself together!" one yelled as the scene changed to the Windy City where Shirley Loudermelk keeps a record of the wind.

A radio wave hits me and, as I recover from the shock, I hear Lynn Echerd, the famous Uncle Remus. He is loved by all the kiddies, and Shirley Harrington keeps a record of his fan mail.

"Where's the crowd headed?" I wandered—I mean wondered. "To the wrestling matches," comes the reply. Of course, Shirley Mullis, lady wrestling champion of the world, is going to tackle Wakefield Bentley, winner of the men's wrestling matches. Wish I had a ticket to see it! Oh, well, I know it will be a close match.

As the show draws to an end, I see Jack Bebbber plodding westward. He has undertaken the job of seeing how many steps it will take to walk across the United States. Jo Ann Parker flies above him in a homemade helicopter. She has already counted a zillion steps.

The final curtain rings down and the actors appear again, they are greeted with tremendous applause. As I fade into the mist, the footlights dim in the great theater, "The World," and I hear the refrain:

"DUTY
AND

—NELL ROSE MOOSE

Last Will and Testament

We, the graduating class of nineteen hundred and fifty-two of the Taylorsville High School, realizing that the past twelve years of struggling have not been in vain, have a few worn treasures which we do hereby will and bequeath.

First: To Mr. H. M. Young, our principal, we wish to express our sincere appreciation for his understanding, guidance, and continuous assistance during our entire high school years.

Second: To Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Ingram, our sponsors, we are sincerely grateful for their assistance and we wish to express our thanks for the work they have done this year on our behalf.

Third: To the entire faculty, we are indeed thankful for their advice and for the long hours they have so willingly spent in helping and guiding us. We regret that we ever grumbled because of homework as we now realize it was for the best, and we are truly grateful for it.

Fourth: To the Juniors: We, the Seniors, will our privileges and our front seats in the auditorium with these instructions: "Study long and hard if you don't want them for two years."

We, the individual members of '52 leave the following:

Shirley Mullis wills her seat in shorthand to Gaynell Bumgarner.

Jo Ann Richey wills her disposition to anyone who thinks he can get along with it.

Roy Neil Barnes wills his good times at old THS and his ability to get along with Mrs. McLeod to anyone who is lucky enough to get it.

Wakefield Bentley wills his ability to stay out of trouble to Bob Fortner and Sam Robinette.

Allene Warren wills her good times at THS to Irene Caldwell.

Calvin Little wills his Senior superlative, Most Popular, to Leon Harrington.

Maxine Mays wills her position as cheerleader to Mae Reece.

Linda Sue Pennell wills her bookkeeping seat by the window to anyone interested in what's going on outside.

Betty Lou Pennell wills her position on the Alexandrian Staff to Helen Brown.

Nell Rose Moose wills her Senior superlative, Best All Round, to Thelma Morrison.

Evelyn Wike wills her good times at THS to Thelma Morrison and Helen Brown.

Lou Eva Jolly wills her three classes—bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand—to Gail Icen-hour if she can live through them.

Shirley Loudermelk wills her ability to slip off from school without getting caught to Betty Jo Carrigan.

Marie Oliver wills her seat in typing to Irene Oliver.

Lona Louise Barnes wills her books to anyone who wants them.

Hurshel Teague wills his good times to J. T. Coonse and hopes he will enjoy them.

Charles Rogers wills his ability to think incorrectly in class to Winfred Walker.

Sue Ella Stafford wills her position on the Tahian Staff to Charles Allen.

Paul Dean Watts wills his ability to run fast in football to Leon Harrington.

Margie Bumgarner wills her Senior superlative, Most Courteous, to anyone who is lucky enough to get it.

Jana Elder wills her good times at THS to Irene Caldwell and Jo Ann St. Clair.

Daisy Fox and Sandra Motsinger leave, taking everything with them.

Rowe Teague wills his quietness to anyone who wants it.

Frances Duncan wills her A's in shorthand and bookkeeping to Sally Duncan.

Virginia Herman wills her position as Vice-Chairman of the Student Council to Mary Ellen Herman.

James Meadlock leaves anything that he forgets to take with him to anyone who doesn't want it.

Robert Cavin wills his ability to get along with Mrs. McLeod in bookkeeping to Jim Davis.
Doris St. Clair wills his ability to drive a bus to Bob Fortner.
Don Reid wills his good times at THS to anyone lucky enough to get them.
Jack Bebber wills his ability to skip class and get by with it to Jim Davis.
Ollene Warren wills her shorthand book and her good times at THS to Bobbie Jean Deal and Millie Reid.
Bonnie Lou Sipe wills her ability to laugh in the wrong place and at the wrong time to Elaine Stine.
Marie Mays wills her good times in study hall to Donna Little.
Betty Wike wills her ability to write her own excuses and get by with it to Mary Ellen Burgess.
Abe Russell wills his Senior superlative "Most Dependable" to Jim Davis.
Betty Sue Coonse wills her shorthand book to anyone who is crazy enough to take it.
Pat Murphy and Johnsie Deal will their ability to "cut up" and have a good time to Linda Brookshire and Anne Still.
Lynn Echerd wills his good times and ability to get along with Mrs. Ingram to anyone lucky enough to get them.
Louise Barnes wills her good times at THS to Norma Deane Barnes.
Rachel Icenhour wills her troubles and work as Advertising Editor of the "Alexandrian" to Frances Watts.
Juel Johnson wills her position as Chief Cheerleader and all the fun that goes with it to Nancy Smith.
Shirley Harrington wills all of her good times at THS to Jean Harrington.
Jo Ann Parker wills her wonderful times at THS to Nancy Parker.
Joann Tevepaugh wills her dumbness in history to Margaret Mitchell.
Exie Robinette wills her seat in English to anyone who can sit through it.
Coy Bebber wills his love for THS and its athletic activities to anyone who will enjoy them as he has.
Marion Clontz wills his privilege to leave school early to Franklin Howie, who he thinks, would like to reverse it.
Leon Bowman wills his ability to eat "Pineapple pie" to Bruce Bowman.
In witness, whereof, we affix our seal, this the twenty-sixth day of May nineteen hundred and fifty-two.

It has been a pleasure knowing you these two years.
I wish you the best of luck always. May you succeed and find happiness in anything you do. You deserve it.

Always,

Dear "Van,"

I have really enjoyed knowing you this year! Didn't we have loads of fun in Algebra! (Really, no!) And of course, dead Biology. Don't forget our trip to Raleigh.
(That place will never be the same!) You be good and TO OUR ADVERTISERS Don't forget me.

Love ya,

Dear "Von",

Well, I guess we will be in next year. I guess that will be a lot of fun too but I sure have had a lot of fun this year. Dramatics is a very exciting place to be isn't it. A lot of interesting things have happened in there and they weren't all in plays.

Be good ^{Compliments of} and have fun this summer as my mother would say. Good luck always in

EDUCATED
NOW?

To be sure you are, with a prized diploma to show for it! Congratulations on all those tests you've successfully passed. Now life is going to give you the supreme test of thinking for yourself. You'll hear that the political planners can manage everything for you, and give you a "secure" life. If you think that one through clearly, you will see that the most secure people you could find are the ones in jail. You'll probably hear more about your "rights" than you do about your responsibility. Yet your teachers have warned you that every right carries with it an obligation equal or greater.

"Von,"

Well, I'm finally getting around to writing this. It's Aug. 9. It wasn't that I didn't want to write in your book, I really consider it an honor, but I just don't know what to say.

There are so many things I'd like to put here but I think you already know most of them from our many discussions in Dramatics.

I have thoroughly enjoyed being in school with you the past three years. I'm sure we'll have just as much fun ^{together} the next two.

Here's wishing a true friend the best in everything she undertakes. You sure deserve it.

Always remember that on my list you top.

Love always,
Bobbie

Dearest Yvonne,

It is really a pleasure to get to write in your "Lahian" this year of 58. And tell you how sweet and wonderful you have been to me all these ten years. It would take me a year to try to write all our good times we have had together on paper.

"Vone, I know we have had our ups and downs but as far as that goes I sure hope that doesn't stand between our friendship. (OK)

I don't believe any one could have as good a times as we have had in the 10 past years.

Especially the times I stay with you with me. Talking till midnight in the night ^{about} every body and everything of course they were all good things.

As I wrote last year I will never forget the time on Leon's bike going down the hill. And it ^{hadn't} come to use. We might not be here to write in these "Tahiri" of year 52,

It just doesn't look like we every will get any of our classes together. But as long as you have ~~with~~ with your heart throbb it doesn't matter to me. Guess you know I mean - if not here are external ~~external~~. Just continue your friendship with him and you will be doing fine.

Remember who wrote back
there in my book Last Year
Well that friendship didn't continue for me. But the friendship I have now with B.D. I hope will continue through all my life. I sure hope it does. Because he is really a swell guy.

Well I will close by saying may the God's follow you through your life (Health, Happiness and Things which I think they will.
(445) Always a friend
Revelin
